Forecast For Strathclyde
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Friday 15 Oct 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Cloud and patchy rain soon spreading from the south Saturday.

This Evening and Tonight:
A chilly night expected with frost away from the coasts and a lot of clear conditions, A little more cloud gathering around the coasts. Winds light and variable in direction. Minimum temperature 0 deg C (32 deg F).

Saturday:
Best of the limited early brightness in the Central Belt and Argyll. Otherwise turning increasingly cloudy with patchy rain spreading from the south, as winds strengthen. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Early rain will clear on Sunday with some brightness. Then an unsettled spell with milder conditions but windy with periods of persistent rain to start the new week.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.